this week. Now for a railroad boom. Let everything go hand in hand. There will be a special meeting of the board of aldermen at 7:30 this evening.

Four new convicts were brought to the penitentiary yesterday from Wilson

Forty eight convicts were sent down to Weldon yesterday to work on the State farms along the Roanoke river.

A party is being organized here to go to Florence, Ala., on the 19th and 20th inst., to attend a great land sale there.

A convention of the chiefs of the fire departments from all over the State will be held in Greensboro Wednesday.

J. R. Ferrell & Co. are making a specialty this season of Peak, Freean & Co.'s celebrated London buiscuit, several varieties, which they are to day opening. There is no doubt about it. A gentleman who knows was heard to say yesterday that the new electric street railway system would be a feature of the city before Christmas. Manteo Lodge No 8 will hold a special meeting for the purpose of confer ring the 1st and 2nd degrees this even ing. All members eligible to this degree will take notice and be present.

Between twenty and fifty large wire coops of chickens are received here by express every day, and yet the chicken market is not overstocked. Then wouldn't a poultry farm find a good business hereabouts.

There is a busy scene about the Raleigh & Gaston depot railroad yards. A number of side-tracks are full of flat cars and box cars in course of construction, and a little beyond these the North Carolina Car Company is building several hundred cars.

The emotional drama, "A Legal Wrong," deserved what it had not last evening, a large audience, for it was very strongly played, and the cast was admirable in every respect. It is speaking truth to term it one of the best performances of the season.

A calico ball has never been given in Raleigh, strange to say, but all its citizens will have an opportunity of seeing one in all its beauty Thanksgiving evening at the Yarborough house. It is for a charitable purpose and will be largely attended. Further particulars will be given later.

There are thousands of expressions about the beauty of the autumn foliage. It has simply surpassed itself. The weather has been just right to permit the leaves to cure through all the possible variations of color. There have been no snaps of frost to wither and blacken them up suddenly.

The Executive Committee of the Christian Conference, which embraces North Carolina and Virginia, met here yesterday at 12 o'clock, preparatory to the session of the Conference which convenes next Tuesday at Hines' Chapel, in Guilford county. Rev. J. L. Foster is secretary of the conference.

Large postal boxes for the receipt of newspapers and packages are to be placed on the streets at convenient points. They are like the street letter boxes, but are many times as large. One will be placed at the Agricultural building and another at the corner of West Hargett and South Wilmington streets.

A very fine six-inch rifle cannon lies buried near the main warehouse of the Raleigh & Gaston depot. It has been there for a number of years and was not wholly covered up till about three years ago. It is too valuable a thing to be useless. It might be taken up and used as a saluting gun on gala or State occa-

A Journalistic Change.

Mr. Thomas H. Bain has secured a half interest in the Southern Farmer, published in this city, Mr. P. C. Enniss, the present business manager of the paper, being the other associate. In the future the management and control of the Southern Farmer will be conducted by Bain & Enniss. Mr. Bain is a brother of State Treasurer Bain, has been a successful farmer for many years and is an accomplished and able editor. Moore arrived here yesterday afternoon having already spent years in editorial work. Mr. Bain having a practical knowledge of both farming and journalism, and Mr. Enniss having been brought up a newspaper man, we bespeak for the Southern Farmer greater usefulness and increased success under its new manage-

Some Things People Are Talking

About. A CHRONICLE man hears a great many things talked about during the day and his talks with people are varied and interesting. Yesterday one of the lead ing business men said: "See here; I notice you fellows are beginning to talk about the municipal elections, candidates for mayor &c., &c., and the election is about six months off. You are mighty scon about this business, but perhaps it will give us time to think the matter over and have it conducted in a different way from what it usually is. Now of course we want a good man for mayor; but the main thing is to look out for a good board of aldermen. I hear some of the members of the present board will not accept a re-election. If not, our difficulty lies in supplying their places with the right kind of men, and this is not easy to do when the "slate system" is practiced. This thing of making up a slate or slates in the wards, and voting for those "slates" simply because they favor some particular man for mayor, ought to be stopped. It will be in one of the large lower I can tell you now that the man who stores of the Henry building. Some of The Polks You Know and The Semi-annual devolution in Full swing.

> (By United Press). LA LIBERTAD NOV. 11.-The revolution, which has been gaining headway since the conclusion of the war between Salvador and Guatemala, has broken out in Honduras. Tegucigalpa is in a state of seige. Private advices from the city of Guatemala, just received here, put a grave aspect upon the revolution in Honduras. It is believe t that Barillas will attempt to aid his old ally, Bogran, in Honduras, and in doing so will precipitate a general war in Central America. The greatest uneasiness prevails in Guatemala and the movements of Baril las are watched with suspicion.

> NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Herald's SanSalvador special says: President Ezeta, in an interview yesterday, fully confirmed the reported revolution in Tegucigalpa, and said that the slaughter in the taking of the State building and arsenal was very heavy.

A Relic of Slavery Times.

[ByUnited Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.-An interesting relic of the slavery days in the case of Elizabeth Botts against the executors of Elijah Harvey, deceased. In February, 1859, Elijah Harvey gave to his daugter, Mrs. Botts, a girl slave, whom Mrs. Botts retained a number of years. The girl finally became unmanageable and was put up for sale. Harvey offered to take back the girl and give his CHRONICLE of yesterday was a native of daughter six hundred dollars for her. The slave was returned upon these terms. ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Mr. S. R. Gill Burglarized and Robbed of $150 -- By Four Men -- Newsy Notes From Wake Forest.

The CHRONICLE correspondent at Wake Forest College writes:

Wake Forest comes in again with another excitement. Last Saturday night the house of Mr. S. R. Gill, an old gentleman who lives about six miles from here, out towards the Falls of Neuse, was entered and Mr. Gill knocked down, robbed of a hundred and flfty dollars and left for dead. The parties, however, failed to accomplish their dastardly design for Mr. Gill was not killed, but recognized, as he said, all the persons, and identified then afterwards as Sam Daniels, Fon. Jones, Joe Davis and Joe Martin. Search was immediately made and resulted in the finding of the first three, who are now here under arrest, but Joe Martin has not been found.

The preliminary trial of the three who are under arrest will be held here this evening or to-morrow morning before 'Squire W. C. Brewer. There is a crowd of country people in town now anxiously awaiting the trial.

COMMERCE. WORLD'S

New York, November 11.-Mesors. Hubbard, Price & Company in their cotton circular to-night say : "Early cables from London this morning reported a decided improvement in the financial situation there, and the Liverpool market evidently felt the effect of such cheering advices, for the first dispatches from there indicated an improvement of 1 64, and later another 64th was added to this, although the subsequent advance was lost before the close. Here the market opened at an advance of 10 points, which, however, was speedily lost when rumors of further failures on the Stock Exchange finally materialized in the suspension of three of its more prominent firms, and for a time the cotton market was very weak. At the close, however, a slight recovery was effected, which left the market 2 to 3 points higher than last evening. The question of how far the present financial disturbance is likely to extend is now the dominant one in all speculative markets, and we are glad to feel that in the opinion of many, whose judgment is entitled to Finest Line Canned Corn, y consideration, that the worst is over."
